Invitation to participate AMPINC-CON2017

Dear Colleagues

It is with great pleasure that I, on behalf of organizing committee, invite you to participate in the Annual Conference on Medical Physics-Northern Chapter 2017 (AMPINC-CON2017) at the University College of Medical Sciences & Guru Teg Bahadur Hospital, Dilshad Garden Delhi during 25th February to 26th February 2017 hosted, by the Department of Radiology on behalf of the Association of Medical Physicist of India (Northern Chapter).

The broad objectives of the conference are bringing together senior faculty and expert from different part of the country to exchange knowledge in the field of Medical Physics/Radiation Physics/Radiological Physics for improved health-care and radiation safety in Medical institutions. The scientific programme consists of invited talks/teaching sessions from nationally/internationally acclaimed faculty in the field of radiation oncology, radiology, nuclear medicine, radiological safety and radiobiology. In addition, the conference will serve as a platform to showcase the innovative work being carried out by researchers in the field of Medical physics. This will be presented in the form of proffered oral and poster paper presentations. Also, a technical exhibition showing the latest equipment/instruments, primarily used by the medical physicists, will be available. More than 150 medical physicists working in radiotherapy, radio-diagnosis and nuclear medicine are likely to participate and benefit from the deliberation and interactions in the conference.

Younger medical physics colleagues as also the students and residents in medical physics will especially benefit by attending this conference as this event will provide an in depth analysis in their field and update the knowledge of participants. Brochure containing information for submission of abstract, registration form and details of scientific program is attached herewith. Kindly acknowledge the receipt of this mail along with your mobile number and requirement of accommodation.

Looking forward to seeing you on 25th February & 26th Feb 2017 in Delhi.

Regards

(Dr Ajai Kumar Srivastava)
Organizing Secretary AMPINC-CON2017
